

Rashi

“ Success is not a result of wishful thinking, rather it strives for excellence in the determination of hardwork.”

A journey of what started with a thought but now has turned into passion of life.

Heading- Girl with star eyes!

If someone asks you; have you seen a girl with a happy-to-go, chirpy and bubbly smile that reaches the corners of her eyes, it is probably Rashi they are talking about!

Rashi Mehra,22, has the personality of a free bird, with sky as her limit she strives to soar to boundless heights of success. She has an unconditioned and underlying interest for the arts, and has always been inclined towards performing even from a young age!

Heading- Rashi's world of dreams!

Born and brought up in the small town of Nainital,Uttarakhand, Rashi has always dreamt of making it big and chasing her dreams in the city. Being from a place that did not allow for her career to grow she spread her wings and came flying to Delhi to try her hand at a successful career in the showbiz!

Interestingly enough, she never wanted to get into modeling! Rather being an air hostess was her dream plan ! But one of her friend tagged her along in a model shoot and she loved the experience! Since then she has taken this up as her full time job and passion!

Heading- Hardwork more than luck

As soon as she realized modeling is what she wants to do, Rashi enrolled herself in many competitions and stage platforms that gave her the recognition and opportunity to step up the success ladder!

Heading- talent has no age!

At a very young age of 19 and 20 she won the titles of Miss Uttarakhand third runner-up, and Miss Jaipur first runner-up respectively. Proving that when determination of achieving your dreams is on track, anything is possible! A true inspiration of sorts!

It has been three years since Rashi moved full time to Delhi and has been focusing on her job with the utmost diligence and heart! In 2019 she had print shots done and published in Delhi which gave her a breakthrough for her very famous, post lockdown billboard shoot- "Shades of a Woman".

Looking at her resolve and dedication, Rashi has greatly reached an impressive level of career peak and there is still more to go !

Page6-

Heading- route to victory

Quote- "Determination never fails a person; it always succeeds to serve those who never give up on their dreams."

Aptly applicable for Rashi, this statement is how she keeps herself motivated and on-the-go all the time. From fighting to get out of her town and fighting to make her space in Delhi, she has remained resolute in her pursuit.

Page7- love of the loved ones...

A child is only confident in her dreams if the parents get their support and stand behind them as their pillar of strength. Unfortunately, Rashi got a lot of criticism from her community for her choosing this path to follow. But nevertheless, she kept her eyes on the goal and with healthy, blessed wishes from her parents, she took to the city!

Page8-

Heading- All Rounder Woman !

Apart from her great dreams and aspirations with the camera, loves to indulge in various wholesome activities to keep her happy and rejoicing at all the times! Gymming, dancing, socializing, going out to different places to explore the city are many of her favorite ways to spend her free time.

Heading- Grooving and working

In a way that work doesn't feel like work, she enjoys every bit of what she does and more. Only excellence can be achieved when you believe in the reality of your dreams and that is the case with Rashi!

Page9- Desi Girl in B-Town!

There is no restriction in dreams and their boundaries! For Rashi modeling is just a start to her greater dream of being an actress and leaving her talented imprint in the Bollywood city. Slowly yet steadily she is getting there with efforts that take her there and lead her to even higher clouds of success!

Heading- The key to encouragement

Something that Rashi follows by heart as a mantra is , “ winners never quit and those who quit they never win”. She is a true believer of the fact that if you want to keep yourself motivated always remember the ‘why’. Why and what is at stake and for you are doing this for. Be unstoppable and never stop trying, even if the going gets hard and you have to be patient to yield the best of results; persistence gives you the answer.

Page11-

Heading- Coming out stronger

She has learned to survive after experiencing no support and only hardships from the people of her community. It has strengthened her back and suited her with an armor to take on any challenge from the world.

In Naintial she had a hard time getting acceptance for her dreams. She had to go out of the way with only the support of her parents and sisters, Roma Shah and Surbhi Kapoor that helped her stay on the best of her game.

Page12-

Heading- Fighting the tough!

No wonder that her journey has not been the easiest one. She has had various great milestones in her career path but she had it pebbled with great boulders of obstacles too! What remains the celebratory fact is that she never lost heart or hope and stayed faithful for what she wanted to achieve in life!

If there is one thing that stands out in her story, it is undoubtedly that; her strength and will-power!

Page13-

Heading-Conqueror of her dreams

With all of this passion for her work, it’s no shock she is a great blogger! With sponsorships for Garnier and Pond’s she has already managed to create a niche group of supporters of herself and loves the content she does for her followers and so do they!

Page14-

Heading- Making the best of her life!

Demotivated and thrashing words from the world never put her down! And so, she gained all of this luck and love and good wishes with her earnest attempt to construct the life of her dreams and dance in its goodness! All the credits are due only to her, for she never backed down and made her dreams come true all by herself!

No one supports yourself like the way you do!

Page15-

Heading- only gratitude for the way

It has been a rollercoaster of a ride for Rashi, with lots of turbulence and happy tears, but she has successfully and very efficiently become what she is now! Thankful and gratitude spirits only life her up and she hope it stays the same from this point on with more achievements to bless her!
